

Ohio Health Information Management Association Data Quality Reimbursement Council

Policy for Discounted Fees

Active DQRC members will be eligible to receive the student discounted registration rate for the Fall Coding Session and other DQRC planned events EXCEPT for the annual meeting.

An “active” DQRC member is defined as a member who participates in over 50% of the DQRC meetings regardless if the meeting is e-mail, face to face, or conference call.

The member must also have served on the Data Quality & Reimbursement council for at least one full year (from July to July) before being eligible to receive the discount.

The co-chair of the council will submit the names of the individuals who qualify for the student discount to the executive director of OHIMA at least 30 days prior to the seminar date.

When the active DQRC member registers for the event, he/she will need to indicate on their registration form that they are eligible to receive the student price for the program.

In the event that the registration of the active DQRC member has been received and s/he has not been identified by the council co-chair to receive the discounted rate, the OHIMA Executive Director will notify the member to follow-up with the DQRC co-chair and if necessary, pay the balance of registration.
